You will need a new dress for commencement, of course, and we are ready to supply this want, and save you all the trouble and a good part of the cost too. Our stocks of white good, laces and embroideries are marvelously beautiful and it is a rare occurrence for us to fail to please any lady that visits our store. We would like to have you call and see this stock, and if you love things beautiful, you will consider the time well spent even if you are not yet ready to buy.

Our Oxfords for Ladies and Misses are the talk of the town.

Have you noticed our display of Ladies' Hats. It is style.

Entered as second-class matter July 16, 1906, at the postoffice at Elba, Ala., under the act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

ELBA, ALA., APRIL 28, 1911.

The O'Neal administration will be just begun when we get the election back into Alabama.

The brewers and saloonists are becoming active now in the circulation of petitions for local option elections.

The hope of this country rests upon the intelligence and purity of the ballot, and Lorimer and his supporters should be retired to private life.

A man that will hold on to an office under such conditions as Lorimer is holding his might possibly have a greater love for office than he has for money.

What were the pledges of the O'Neal administration? They have been referred to as party pledges, democratic pledges, party measures. Who is the democratic party in this matter?

Representative Mann, the republican minority leader in the house, calls the "free list bill," introduced by Representative Underwood, "political soothing syrup." May be, however, this will be good medicine for the American farmer.

It is admitted that the "free list bill," if it becomes a law, will take $10,000,000 from the government revenues, but while this may be true, it will leave this $10,000,000, and more, in the hands of American farmers. Much more than this sum will be taken from the manufacturers under the high tariff protection laws, and given back to the farmers who earn it by the "sweat of their brows."

Warning to Railroad Men!
Look out for severe and even dangerous kidney and bladder trouble resulting from years of railroad. Geo. M. Bell, 639 Third St., Fort Wayne Ind., was many years conductor on the Nickel Plate. He says: "Twenty years of railroad left my kidneys in terrible condition. There was a continual pain across my back and hips and my kidneys gave me much distress, and the action of my bladder was frequent and most painful. I got a supply of Foley Kidney Pills and the first bottle made a wonderful improvement and four bottles cured me completely. Since being cured I have recommended Foley Kidney pills to many of my railroad friends." City Drug Co.

Legislation for Farmers.

Tuesday Representative Underwood introduced in the House the "farmers free list" bill which is the first step toward tariff revision. There are in this free list 100 articles used by the American farmer. If this measure becomes a law tariff duty will be removed from these 100 articles, and the price to the farmers of the country will be much reduced. Nearly every kind of agricultural implement is placed in the free list. The food products usually bought by the farmer are also put on the free list.

This is a measure designed mainly to benefit the farmers of the country, but will help many others also in reducing high cost of living.

This bill will have fair sailing in the house where there is a democratic majority, but the republicans hope to defeat it in the senate. We are hoping it will become a law.

Help Things Along.

When people are needing something and are pleading for aid and support for some good worthy plan, don't knock and don't holler but dig up a dollar, and help things along like a good little man. The knocker is hated and feared and berated in every live bury from Beersheba to Dan; but be active and willing and cough up a shilling, and help things along like a smooth little man. Be known as a booster and crow like a rooster, don't yelp like a bow-wow that's tied to a can; laugh, sing and kyoodle and blow in some boodle, and help things along like a nice little man. Quit plunder and pilage to whom for your village and win a renown as an optimist fan; don't let a whiner but shell out a shiner and help things along like a dear little man. The towns that are going to keep up their growing are filled with good Indians who follow this plan; so don't be a miser; to loosen up's wiser, and people will say you're a sweet little man.

Opposes Election of Senators by the People.

The Montgomery Advertiser, which claims to be a democratic paper, opposes the election of United States Senators by the people, which is a democratic measure. The present extra session of Congress is seeking to carry into effect some of the pledges of the national democratic platform, and the house has passed the bill which seeks to change the method of electing United States senators. Of course this can only be done by amending the United States Constitution in one of the two ways provided. But judging from the following from the Montgomery Advertiser, we understand that the Advertiser is against this generally accepted democratic measure.

"There is considerable room for explanation in this paragraph from the Birmingham Ledger: Now that Congress has passed a bill intended to change the method of electing senators, what if the venerables of the north end of the Capitol shall pass a bill regarding the election of Congressmen, changing the method?"

When was a law changing the mode of electing Senators adopted by Congress? Can Congress enact such a law? Whenever a change is made from the present method of electing Senators to that of popular election, we may look for agitation for increase of Senators according to population of states. There is plenty of trouble stored up for the future if we depart from the wise provisions made by the fathers."

To prohibit the sale of spirituous, vinous or malt liquors; to prohibit the keeping or storing of spirituous, vinous or malt liquors for sale; and to provide penalties for the violation of this ordinance.

Be it ordained by the Town Council of Elba, Alabama:

Section 1. That it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell, give away or otherwise dispose of, or to aid in the sale, giving away or other disposition of whiskeys, beers, wine, bitters or any of those liquors commonly designated as spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, within the town of Elba or its police jurisdiction. Provided that this section shall not be construed to make it unlawful to dispose of said liquors in the manner permitted by the state laws of Alabama.

Section 2. Be it further ordained by the town council of Elba, Alabama, that it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to store or keep for sale or unlawful distribution any of the liquors mentioned in section 1 of this ordinance. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to permit the same to be kept in any store, warehouse, office or building not used exclusively as a residence under the control or in the possession of said person, firm or corporation.

Section 3. Be it further ordained that any person, convicted of the violation of this act shall be fined not less than $50.00 nor more than $100.00 and may be sentenced to hard labor or imprisonment in the town prison or the county jail in default of the payment of such fine.

CRIMES

"Mamma, if you AND can make a rhubarb CRASULTIES. pie out of a pie plant, could you make a chicken pie out of an egg plant?" Little Freddie Nehring, nine years old, of Chicago, was wistfully watching his mother, Mrs. Ernest A. Nehring, cut a luscious, nicely browned rhubarb pie into generous slices when he propounded the conundrum quoted above. Mrs. Nehring laughed heartily at her son's joke. Suddenly she fell and was dead when picked up. Doctors, who were called too late to be of any assistance, said it was heart disease, brought on by the fit of merriment.

V. V. Bullock, former assistant postmaster of Atlanta, and now of ex-Gov. Bullock, of Georgia, blew out the brains at the country home of J. A. Douglas, manager of the local office of the Southern Express company, according to news received at Anniston, Ala. Details of his death have not been received, though it is known that the health of the deceased has been failing for some time, and this fact, together with grief over the death of a close relative, which occurred the house last week, is believed to have caused the deed.

Charged with attempting to murder their competitor, Louis Qan, by blowing up his laundry with blasting powder, Long Bawer, Lee Gane and Long Lee, Chinese laundrymen, are under arrest at Jackson, Tenn., awaiting the arrival of an interpreter from St. Louis before trial can continue. A sack containing eight pounds of powder, with a fuse attached, was placed in the basement of the building occupied by Qan.

Jesse M. Prewett shot and killed L. O. Great of Cedarstone, Ga. Green dying from the shot in about thirty minutes. Both men are well-known farmers of Folk county. The shooting occurred near the farms of both men, and it is understood that the trouble grew out of a dispute over a land line. Prewett drove into town directly after he shot Green and surrendered to the sheriff.

BLEED THROUGH

AN ACT.
To prescribe the duties and powers and to fix the compensation of the County Superintendent of Education of the several counties of this state.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of Alabama, That the duties and powers of the County Superintendent of Education shall be as follows: He shall have an office at the county site of his county, where he must, on every Saturday of each month, except in the months of June, July and August, be present in person or by representative, to transact business with the officers and teachers of the public schools. He shall examine into the condition of all school funds of his county, including the sixteenth section fund and sixteenth section lands unsold in his county. He shall as soon as practicable, notify the district trustees of each district, of the amount available as salaries of the several teachers in the district. He shall, when required by the County Board of Education, devote his entire time to the work of visiting and supervising the schools of the county when any of the public schools are in session, visiting all of the schools of the county as often as possible, and each of them at least once annually. When visiting a school he shall notice carefully, the condition of the school house, grounds and equipments, calling to the attention of the local trustees any apparent needs of the school. He shall observe the class work of each teacher, and when necessary, give model lessons for the benefit of the teacher. He shall encourage the organization of school improvement associations, and the building up of school libraries. He shall make, on blanks furnished by the State Department of Education, monthly reports to the County Board of Education, covering fully and in detail, his work during the preceding month, sending a duplicate report to Superintendent of Education at Montgomery. He shall on or before the 15th day of October of each year, forward to the Superintendent of Education, on blanks to be furnished him by the latter, an annual report covering the work of the public schools in his county, for the preceding year, which shall set forth (1) the amount of school money paid into the hands of the treasurer of the county school funds and from what sources; (2) the amount disbursed by the treasurer and for what purpose; (3) what amounts of public school funds, if any, passed through his hands into the hands of the County Treasurer of the public school funds, and from what sources; and his annual report shall supply whatever information may be called for by the State Superintendent of Education touching the public school of the county.

Section 2. Each County superintendent shall receive four per centum on all state public money legally disbursed in his county not to exceed the sum of eighteen hundred dollars for any calendar year, provided, if the County Board of Education of any county should, by a majority vote of the board, require the full time of the County Superintendent in the discharge of the duties of his office, the said County Board shall fix his compensation on a salary basis instead of a per centum on disbursements, as otherwise provided in this section, and said salary shall be fixed at a sum not less than one thousand dollars per annum, payable in twelve equal monthly payments in the manner and out of the same moneys as other teachers are paid, his name being placed on the pay roll with other teachers. To aid the County Superintendent in the discharge of his duties, the County Board of Education may employ such assistants as they may deem necessary. These assistants shall be paid in the same manner as other teachers of the county are paid.

Section 3. The provisions of this act shall become effective on the expiration of the terms of the County Superintendents now in office. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

A Protest Against Tactics of the Blind Tiger.
Birmingham Ledger.

"Humor, With a Serious Aspect" is the title of a recent editorial in The Mobile Register in which that paper denounces the blind tiger element of Mobile for undertaking to "punish" it by having the brewers and distillers withdraw their advertising patronage from The Register because it published the fact that a few days after the sheriff and the solicitor declared the law would be enforced, following a letter from Governor O'Neal that the blind tigers must be closed, the lid was off again and the activities of the sheriff and solicitor had ceased.

It seems that the blind tiger gentry objected to the open publication that they were selling liquors in flagrant violation of the law, presumably because such publication might tend to have the law enforced, and they therefore undertook to make The Register keep silent by getting the liquor and brewery people to shut off their advertising patronage from The Register.

That paper resents this sort of treatment at the hands of the tiger gentry and says so in the following: "An attempt on the part of the blind tiger operators, consequent on these publications, to boycott The Register is ridiculous and humorous, but it does possess one serious aspect; it is scarcely conceivable that men can be so unintelligent as to believe that withdrawal of 'patronage' in the shape of liquor advertising could influence any newspaper whose intent is to do honest and independent work. The subject would not be treated of here but for the serious aspect such organized effort of law violators presents in its attempt to control the press through the advertising of the brewers and distillers."

Here we have an open admission that the liquor and brewery interests are placing their advertising patronage under the recommendations of their henchmen and allies, the blind tiger operators, who undertake to prevent a newspaper from even publishing the news that they are doing business regardless of the law, by cutting off their advertisements. In other words, the men who were advertising the merits of their products which were outlawed are allied with flagrant violators and defiers of the law to encourage this form of lawlessness through newspaper advertising and attempt to punish a newspaper that dares to print the news in the case. Was there ever such boldness, such "nerve" on the part of the outlaws?

We congratulate The Register, however, on having ceased to carry advertising matter paid for by lawbreaker and outlaws in alliance with one another to promote lawlessness through newspaper advertising, even though the loss of that character of business was not voluntary at the hands of the newspaper itself. Now that it has been demonstrated to The Register that this patronage was largely controlled and placed by outlaws to promote an outlaw business and encourage lawlessness, surely The Register should feel better at ceasing to be a party to the whole ugly business, and its columns will look better without the pictorial layout of whiskey and beer bottles with the blind tiger patronage behind them.

The experience of The Register no doubt suggests to the minds of some the wisdom of discontinuing either business or diplomatic relations with the combination of the liquor and brewery interests allied, as The Register shows, with the blind tiger outlaws to promote a lawless traffic and at the same time to attempt to control the utterance of the press through indirect systems of bribery. The Register has doubtless discovered that with a discontinuance of this sort of business it will not be called upon in future to make explanations that it cannot be bribed to keep its mouth shut by blind tiger advertising patronage.
